

Top 3 News Items

1. The new Colleague Student system will be accessible both on and off campus by students, faculty and staff via the self-service portal. Colleague will replace both the EDEN and Acadia Central systems.
2. For everyone to be prepared for the move to Colleague, you will need an Ellucian account. Self-directed training will be available online from Ellucian. Access will give you a glimpse into what the system will look like. Please log in and set up an account if you have not already done so. It is easy and takes only a few minutes. This is the first step towards preparing for the transition.
3. Validating the data that is transferred into the new system will require navigation training for those involved.
